Introduction

A central mission of Idaho Department of Commerce is to help businesses get started quickly and easily. Businesses typically start in one of three ways:

- A person has an idea and starts selling either a service or a product;
- An existing business is purchased by someone new; or
- Research from a university or laboratory is commercialized by an entrepreneur. (See Appendix 3 for more information on technology transfer.)

This resource provides a guide to developing a business plan, identifies business activities that are regulated or that require permits or licenses, and describes procedures or government forms necessary to comply with the laws. It lists government offices that issue licenses or perform inspections as well as offices that provide assistance and information. Upon determining which regulations or requirements apply, a prospective new business should work directly with the pertinent agencies.

Department specialists and others outside this agency are available for individual assistance. The Idaho Small Business Development Centers also stand ready to assist entrepreneurs with personalized one-on-one counseling, low-cost workshops, and access to business resources (see Appendix 5). In addition, the Service Corps of Retired Executives maintains an outstanding e-network of over 12,000 volunteer business counselors throughout the nation who assist entrepreneurs regardless of location. Ask SCORE is available at www.score.org.

Checklist for Starting a Business
This checklist will guide you to the sections relevant to your business.

Researching Your Business
Research is an integral part of creating a business and is essential to the quality of the business plan. It helps new entrepreneurs understand fundamental aspects of the business prior to beginning operations and answers many important questions, including:

- Who will purchase the product?
- Why will they purchase the product?
- When will they purchase the product?
- Where will they purchase the product?
- How can demand for the product be developed?
- How can the product be produced and delivered efficiently?
- How should the business be organized and managed?
- What are the strengths and weaknesses of the business?

Well-researched answers to these questions can help a new business start on a profitable basis. The type of information essential to operating a business successfully varies widely depending upon the characteristics of the business, its products and its markets. Idaho SBDCs are excellent resources for research assistance. They provide economic and demographic information and are staffed with people knowledgeable in issues facing new entrepreneurs. For more information about these and other business assistance organizations, please review Appendix 5.

Preparing the Business Plan
Following is a brief summary of typical elements that should be included in a business plan. Detailed information can be found in booklets available from the Idaho SBDC offices. Refer to Appendix 5 for their locations. In general, the best business plans are brief and to the point. Lenders often make financing decisions within 15 minutes of reading a loan application, so the first impression is important. Where possible, use bullet items to convey information instead of paragraphs.

Business Plan Outline

Executive Summary
In one or two pages, write an overview of the business. Define its scope and purpose, describe the industry in which it operates, and outline the management, marketing, operation and financial plans.

- Provide a synopsis of why the business idea will work.
- Show some proprietary edge or advantage.
- State specific financial goals (use break-even analysis, pretax return on investment, gross margins, etc.).
• Address key points concerning management ability, including the track-record of business owners and principals.

Management Plan
Define, in general terms, the overall mission and objectives of the business and outline the general strategy it will follow. Identify criteria important to facility site-selection and describe any existing facilities and other resources. Tell how the business is organized, who owns it and list relevant managerial and/or technical experience of the owners and staff. Summarize the business history and any unique or special competencies and proprietary interests.

Marketing Plan
Describe the industry and the local market. Start with the national picture and narrow the focus to the local area. Include information on trends, segments, cycles, problems and opportunities in the industry. List relevant trade associations and other potential sources of information and support. Identify pertinent regulations, licensing issues or zoning requirements. Include information about competitors.

Outline the products and services of the business. List key environmental factors in the market and identify specific problems and opportunities. Analyze demographic and economic trends in the market. State the marketing strategy. List sales, promotional and distribution tasks and the quantitative criteria used to measure success of the marketing plan. Identify processes for obtaining performance feedback from customers and suppliers. Develop a marketing budget.

Operations Plan
Summarize the manufacturing and/or service delivery processes. Identify computer and software needs and the accounting and management information feedback system to be developed. Describe production and operation schedules; raw materials and finished goods inventory controls and quality controls. Identify sources of supply. Estimate equipment, labor and overhead costs, set production goals and forecast per unit costs. State the operating strategy. List quantitative criteria used to measure success of the operating plan. Develop an operations budget.

Financial Plan
Prepare projected financial statements. Include an income statement, balance sheet, cash flow statement, source and application of funds statement and loan proposal outline. Include a break-even projection and financial ratios. When possible, relate the numbers to industry standards. List quantitative criteria used to measure success of the financial plan. Include assumptions and accounting principles used in estimating sales, market share, and costs.

Supporting Documents
Assemble spreadsheets, resumes, personal financial statements, tax returns, industry and marketing studies, survey results, letters of intent and support, organizational documents, agreements, photographs, diagrams, job descriptions, technical drawings, blueprints, operations and technical manuals, product information sheets, price lists and similar documents which support and explain the business plan.
Developing Professional Relationships

Contracting with competent business service professionals can mean the difference between success and failure for many new businesses.

Selecting an Accountant
The Idaho State Board of Accountancy licenses and regulates Certified Public Accountants (CPA) and Licensed Public Accountants (LPA). These professionals act as advisors to individuals and businesses on a wide range of financial related matters. CPAs and LPAs provide audit, review and compilation services, tax assistance, management advisory services and estate and personal financial planning. A CPA or an LPA can help a business by providing the following services:

- Prepare tax returns and recommend tax-planning strategies;
- Review a company’s accounting system and recommend improvements;
- Consult on business problems and ways to improve the use of a client’s resources;
- Assist in the design and installation of data processing management information systems;
- Help clients apply for loans and credit by gathering and preparing lender required information.

Not all accountants provide the same services. Select your professional accounting advisor carefully. A long-term working relationship between you and your CPA or LPA can help you take an informed, consistent approach to financial and business issues and help you meet your financial goals. An important item to consider is the determination of fees. CPAs and LPAs normally base their fees on the type of services you require and the complexity of your work. Talk frankly about fees.

Often the accountant and the client will sign an engagement letter spelling out fees, scope of work and other details in advance of the work performed to avoid misunderstandings. An accountant can be found several ways. Seek recommendations from your lawyer, banker and other business associates.

Before choosing a CPA or LPA, call the Board of Accountancy or visit www.isba.idaho.gov. They have a list of all licensed accountants on the site.

Selecting an Attorney

Many attorneys provide advice about organizing a new business. If possible, select one experienced in business matters. Ask your banker for the names of law firms or individual attorneys. Ask other business owners which attorneys they use. If their business is well run, it is likely that they used care in selecting a law firm. Be sure to ask the attorney about fees in the initial interview and ask if the firm represents businesses similar to yours. A reputable attorney will welcome an open discussion about fees.

Generally you can expect the attorney to base fees on a fixed hourly rate. If you feel uncomfortable about the attorney’s fees or qualifications, feel free to select another attorney. Often attorneys do not charge for an initial interview, but some do. Another way to find a competent attorney is to use the Idaho State Bar Lawyer Referral Service.

Business Organization

Each of these forms of organization has significant tax and legal consequences, and a qualified tax and/or legal advisor should be consulted.

In Idaho, a business may operate as a sole proprietorship, a general partnership, a limited liability partnership, a limited partnership, a limited liability company or a corporation.

Sole Proprietors
A sole proprietorship that adopts a name other than the individual owner’s true name must file a Certificate of Assumed Business Name with the Idaho Secretary of State and pay a fee of $25.

General Partnerships
General partnerships, if they do not operate under the full names of each owner, must file a Certificate of Assumed Business Name with the Secretary of State and pay a fee of $25. The business must also file a Statement of Partnership – see the Idaho Secretary of State’s website for more information. A one-time registration fee of $100 applies if the form is typed or $120 if the form is non-standard or not typed.

Limited Liability Partnerships
Individuals or existing general partnerships may elect to become limited liability partnerships by filing the Statement of Qualification of Limited Liability Partnership form with the Idaho Secretary of State. A one-time registration fee of $100 applies if the form is typed and has no attachments; otherwise the fee is $120.

Limited Partnerships
A new limited partnership created in Idaho must file duplicate originals of Idaho’s Certificate of Limited Partnership with the Secretary of State. A one-time fee of $100 applies for registration of existing foreign or new Idaho limited partnerships if the application is typed and has no attachments; otherwise the fee is $120. An existing limited partnership, organized outside the State of Idaho and entering the state to transact business in Idaho, must file two original copies of the Application of Registration of Foreign Limited Partnership with the Idaho Secretary of State. A certificate from the jurisdiction where the partnership is organized that proves the existence of the limited partnership must accompany these forms.

Information about the changes can be found at http://www.sos.idaho.gov/corp/corindex.htm and http://www.state.id.us/idstat/TOC/30006JTOC.html. The Idaho Limited Liability Company Act is available from the Secretary of State.

Limited Liability Companies from Other States
To operate in Idaho, a limited liability company organized in another state must register with the Secretary of State by submitting an original signed form titled Application for Registration as a Foreign Limited Liability Company together with a duplicate copy. The fee for registration is $100 ($120 if not typed).

Except for sole proprietors using the owner’s true name and general partnerships using the full name of each owner, all businesses must file the appropriate notice or documents with the Secretary of State.
A corporation, limited partnership, limited liability partnership or limited liability company which is not yet ready to submit its filing but wishes to reserve a business name, may submit a request in writing along with $20 to the Secretary of State. Such a reservation expires after four months. To obtain forms, check the status of a business entity or check for name availability, visit www.sos.idaho.gov.

New Limited Liability Companies
To attain limited liability status under the Idaho Act, a company must register with the Secretary of State by submitting duplicate copies of its Articles of Organization on a form provided by that office. The fee for registering a limited liability company is $100 ($120 if not typed or if attachments are included). As with corporations, limited liability company membership interests may be subject to state and federal securities laws. Information on the issuance of membership interests can be obtained by contacting the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and the Idaho Department of Finance at the addresses listed toward the end of this section.

Professional Limited Liability Companies
A Professional Limited Liability Company is an LLC whose members offer a professional service, such as legal, medical or dental services. The name of the company must include the words “Professional Limited Company,” “PLLC,” or “Professional Limited Liability Company.” The form needed to establish a PLLC can be found at http://www.sos.idaho.gov/corp/llcform.htm

Corporations

Existing Foreign Corporations
To operate in Idaho, a corporation organized in another jurisdiction must submit two original copies of an Application for Certificate of Authority to the Secretary of State along with a certificate of corporate status issued by the state where incorporated. A onetime fee of $100 is required for business corporations ($120 if the application is handwritten) or $30 for nonprofit corporations.

New Corporations
Incorporating a business or nonprofit corporation in Idaho requires filing duplicate originals of Articles of Incorporation with the Secretary of State. The Secretary of State’s office no longer issues certificates for corporate filings. Evidence of filing is established by the latest time stamp of the Secretary of State’s office, along with the file number (preceded by the letter “C”). Incorporation requirements are set out in the Idaho Business Corporation Act and the Idaho Nonprofit Corporation Act, available from the Secretary of State. A one-time fee of $100 is required for business corporations ($120 if the application is handwritten) or $30 for nonprofit corporations.

If a company wishes to issue stock or raise money from the public, it must usually notify the Idaho Department of Finance and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. If, for instance, you wish to run advertisements offering an investment or partnership opportunity in your company or solicit investors by any other means, first contact the Idaho Department of Finance.
The term “securities” refers to more than just stocks or bonds and includes types of debt (i.e., a note or a loan) or equity used to raise money for businesses. Contact the Idaho Department of Finance to determine if you need to register or file for an exemption. In some cases, no filing is necessary.

The Idaho Credit Code requires that notice be given to, or a license obtained from, the Idaho Department of Finance for all types of business that extend, arrange or take assignment of consumer credit, or engage in collections or credit counseling. Consumer credit is defined as credit extended for personal, family, or household use. The requirements are set forth in the Idaho Credit Code, available from the Department of Finance. Contact the Department of Finance, Consumer Finance Bureau at (208) 332-8002 for more information.

Professional Service Corporation
The corporation consists of individuals engaged in a limited number of professions, such as medical, dental, legal, landscape architects, architects or veterinarians. A list of qualifying businesses can be obtained from the Secretary of State’s office. The forms needed to create a professional service corporation can be found at http://www.sos.idaho.gov/corp/corpform.htm.

The name of the business must end with the words “chartered,” “professional association,” “professional corporation,” or with the abbreviations “PA,” “PC,” or “Chtd.”

Angel Investors
Angel investors are high net-worth individuals who provide capital and expertise to qualified emerging companies. Moderate amounts of money are invested in the early stages of startup companies by such investors.

Accredited angel investors may organize into alliances or funds to invest in emerging companies. To obtain financial support from participants in such an alliance or fund, a qualified business may make a presentation to the group. Although members of the alliance may discuss possible investing opportunities, individual angels can also make their own funding decisions.

Currently, there are several angel alliances operating in Idaho:

- Boise Angel Alliance, visit www.boiseangelalliance.com.
- Spokane Angel Alliance http://www.connectnw.org/spokane-angel-alliance/
- The Boise Keiretsu Forum, visit www.k4boise.com

When approaching angel alliances, do not limit yourself to one state. Many of them are not limited by geographic proximity. Consider approaching Idaho angel alliances, if appropriate, as well as those in other states, because angel investments are not limited by geographic proximity. There are a number of active angel groups operating throughout the Pacific NW which may be willing to consider applications from Idaho companies. The Angel Capital Association web site (www.angelcapitalassociation.org) lists member organizations in each state.

Additionally, the Wayne Brown Institute of Salt Lake City provides substantial information and coaching regarding approaching angel alliances and venture capital companies. They have recently begun operations in Idaho. Additional information is available at venturecapital.com.

For assistance with seeking angel capital, you may also contact the Idaho SBDC (www.idahosbdc.org), or TechConnect (www.idahotechconnect.com).

Venture Capital
While angel capital can be either an individual or fund investment, venture capital investment occurs as a fund. Venture capitalists exchange money for equity in participating companies and take an active role in company management. Venture capitalists also invest more money in fewer businesses as compared to angel investors. There are no venture capital companies residing in Idaho that are open to consider new investments at the time this document was written. While angel capital is an individual investment, venture capital investment occurs as a fund. Venture capitalists exchange money for equity in participating companies and take an active role in company management as they look for a quick return on investment. Venture capitalists also invest more money in fewer businesses as compared to angel investors.

For more information about venture capital, please contact TechConnect (www.idahotechconnect.com), Boise State Venture College (http://venturecollege.boisestate.edu), the Idaho SBDC (www.idahosbdc.org), or the Wayne Brown Institute (www.venturecapital.org).

Community Banks
Bank loans can be applied for and received at any point in the life of a business. It is important to develop a relationship with a bank. The bank that has handled your business, as well as personal, checking and savings accounts is more likely to provide financing than one with no history of working with you.

To stimulate economic development, the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) offers a loan-guaranty program in cooperation with local banks. Although banks can make loans without an SBA guaranty, most participate in the SBA program, allowing them to reduce the risk of lending to small businesses.

Obtaining a business loan from a bank requires that the applicant present a detailed business plan to the lender. As long as the loan is repaid as scheduled, the bank will not intervene in day-to-day operations.

A list of lenders in or around Idaho that participate in the SBA guaranty program is available at http://www.sba.gov/offices/district/id/boise

Certified Development Companies
In addition to the SBA guaranty programs offered through community banks, the SBA 504 program is offered only through Certified Development Companies. The 504 program provides fixed-rate, long term financing for major fixed assets.

Loans through this program typically are structured such that a private lender provides 50 percent of the financing, the 504 lender provides 40 percent of the financing, and the borrower provides the remaining 10 percent. The maximum SBA 504 portion of the loan is generally $1 million.

Certified Development Companies are located throughout Idaho and can be found at www.sba.gov/financing/sbaloan/cdc504.html.

Revolving Loan Funds
To stimulate economic development, some regional economic development and planning agencies and cities operate revolving loan funds. These funds are quite similar to bank financing from a borrower’s perspective, but the funding decision is typically made by a local review committee. Interest rates and terms on these funds can be flexible; each revolving loan fund will have its own rules. Contact the appropriate economic development and planning agency (see Appendix 5) to inquire whether revolving loan funds are available.

Investment Banking and IPOs

An Initial Public Offering (IPO) is part of the process a privately held company uses to convert to a publicly held firm. Much of the initial stock is issued to the previous investors of the company such as angels and venture capitalists.

The IPO and business plan are then marketed to large investment groups such as mutual and pension funds. Commonly referred to as a “road show,” this process determines the quantity of stock and the initial price.

Investment bankers usually act as the underwriters for IPOs and are required for the process. Investment bankers price and market the stock. Although large amounts of capital can be raised through an IPO, the process entails high costs. Only businesses organized as C Corporations can make IPO's.

Personal Sources

Entrepreneurs should look to personal sources of financing including family, friends, and personal savings. Such personal investment shows a belief in the idea, business and entrepreneur as well as a willingness to assume risk.

Crowdfunding

Crowdfunding is the practice of funding a project or venture by raising monetary contributions from a large number of people, typically via the internet. Examples of popular crowdfunding websites are Kickstarter (www.kickstarter.com), Indiegogo (www.indiegogo.com), and GoFundMe (www.gofundme.com).
Product and Service Protection

Many businesses begin with an idea, invention, innovative concept or new process. If a business depends upon such intellectual property, it is wise to protect it from uncompensated exploitation by competitors.

Likewise, if a business has established goodwill under a particular name or mark, it should be protected to the fullest extent possible. The State of Idaho and the federal government provide several business services for this purpose.

The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office has many resources available concerning patents and trademarks.

U.S. Patents
A patent is an exclusive right to exploit an invention for a period of years. It can be granted exclusively by the federal government. Only something that represents a new and distinct technological advance may be patented.
It is recommended that you retain the services of a patent attorney. Information and application forms for patents are available from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office on the Internet at www.uspto.gov.

U.S. Copyrights
A copyright protects literary, artistic or intellectual creations from unauthorized copying or exploitation. Once established, a copyright is protected by federal law. Items such as books, paintings, musical compositions and computer programs may be protected by copyright. Copyrights are registered with the U.S. Library of Congress.

U.S. and Idaho Trademarks

A trademark is a claim of the exclusive right to use a particular logo, name or other mark to identify the owner as the source of goods or services to which it is applied. The actual right is acquired by virtue of the usage of the mark in trade; registration merely puts the public on notice of the owner’s claim to the exclusive right. To be registered, a mark must not be generic or merely descriptive. It must have an element of fancifulness, uniqueness, arbitrariness or distinctiveness. Trademarks may be registered under state law and, if used in interstate commerce, under federal law.

In Idaho, the Idaho Secretary of State is responsible for the registration of Idaho trademarks. An Application for Registration of Trademark-Service Mark should be submitted with one specimen of the mark and $30 per class code to the Secretary of State.

Taxes

A key item in operating a business is the fulfillment of tax obligations to both the federal government and the State of Idaho. This section explains how to pay federal and state income taxes, sales tax and special excise taxes.

Income Taxes

Sole Proprietors
To meet their federal income tax obligations, sole proprietors must file an Internal Revenue Service Form 1040 with Schedule C and Schedule SE pertaining to self-employment Social Security taxes.

To meet state obligations, an Idaho resident must file Idaho Form 40 (Form 43 for part-year and nonresidents) and attach a copy of the federal return.

The IRS requires estimated tax payments on Form 1040ES if the tax owed for the year will exceed $1,000. The state of Idaho does not require individuals to make estimated payments, but voluntary estimated payments can be made on Idaho Form 51 anytime during the year.

General Partnerships
Federal tax law requires partnerships to file an IRS Form 1065. State tax rules require the filing of Idaho Form 65 with a copy of the federal tax form attached. The tax on income earned by the partnership is generally paid on the partners’ returns, including nonresident partners.

Limited Partnerships and Limited Liability Partnerships
For tax purposes, both limited partnerships and limited liability partnerships are treated in the same manner as general partnerships.

S Corporations
An eligible corporation can elect to be treated as an S Corporation by the timely filing of IRS Form 2553, Election by a Small Business Corporation. Federal taxes for S corporations are reported using IRS Form 1120S. State taxes require a copy of the 1120S attached to Idaho Form 41S. The tax on income earned by an S Corporation is generally paid on the shareholders’ returns, including nonresident shareholders.

Corporations
Corporations pay federal taxes using IRS Forms 1120 or 1120A. Copies of these forms must be attached to Idaho Form 41 when filing the Idaho corporation income tax return. The IRS and Idaho require corporations to pay quarterly estimates if the tax due will be $500 or more during the tax year. These payments are made using federal Form 1120W and Idaho Form 41ES.

Corporations in their first year of operation in Idaho are not required to pay quarterly estimated payments and may wait until the return due date to pay their first year’s income tax.

Limited Liability Companies
For federal tax purposes, certain business entities automatically are classified as corporations. Other business entities may choose how they are classified for federal tax purposes by filing
Form 8832 with the IRS. See Form 8832 for more details. Idaho taxes these companies the same way they are taxed for federal purposes.

Idaho Sales and Use Tax
Idaho has a six-percent sales tax on retail sales, leases or rentals of tangible personal property. The tax also applies to fees for admissions, recreation, hotel/ motel/campground accommodations, intrastate charter flights and some types of labor. A six-percent use tax is due on the use, consumption or storage of tangible personal property in Idaho on which sales tax was not paid. This includes items purchased by mail order or the Internet. Businesses making retail sales must obtain an Idaho’s Seller’s Permit, while those with purchases subject to use tax need a Use Tax Account Number. Obtain these by completing and submitting Idaho Business Registration Form (Form IBR-1) at www.business.idaho.gov or by sending a paper copy of the form to the Idaho Tax Commission. Fill out the Order Form in the back of this booklet to obtain a paper copy. Upon receipt of the form, the Tax Commission will issue a permit number along with instructions on how and when to remit the tax.

An additional “resort cities” sales tax applies in the cities of Driggs, Ketchum, Riggins, Lava Hot Springs, McCall, Sandpoint, Stanley and Sun Valley. This tax is set and administered by the locality. McCall and Sandpoint apply the tax only to lodging.

An additional two-percent travel and convention tax applies to stays at hotels, motels and campgrounds. Revenue from the tax is used to promote tourism.

The cities of Boise, Chubbuck and Pocatello apply an additional lodging tax on the rental of hotel and motel rooms.

Special Excise and Other Taxes
Both the federal government and the state of Idaho apply special excise taxes to specific products and commodities. The following excise tax lists are not comprehensive, but they do identify some of the taxes that apply to businesses. Businesses are encouraged to contact the IRS and the Idaho State Tax Commission to determine which taxes are applicable.

Federal Excise Tax
- Telephone communications and air transportation
- Manufacturers tax on a variety of goods
- Retail and use tax on motor fuels and certain new heavy truck sales
- Windfall profit tax on domestic crude oil production
- Environmental tax on receipt of hazardous materials
- Environmental tax on manufacturing petroleum and chemicals
- Tax on the use of highways by heavy trucks and buses
- Production, sales, or importation of alcohol, tobacco, or firearms
- Luxury tax

Idaho State Excise and Other Taxes
- Beer and wine tax – paid by distributors
• Insurance tax – paid to the Department of Insurance by insurers
• Cigarette and tobacco tax – paid by wholesalers or importers
• Coin operated amusement device annual decals – paid by owners or operators
• International Fuel Tax Agreement Licenses – paid by interstate truckers
• Mine license tax – paid by miners or royalty recipient
• Motor fuels tax – paid by distributors
• Electricity tax – paid by hydroelectric power producers

More information on sales and use taxes and exemptions can be found in a series of brochures specific to various industries. These brochures may be obtained from the Idaho State Tax Commission or from its web site: www.tax.idaho.gov.

Property Taxes
Business owners should also be aware of real property taxes and personal property taxes on office furniture and some equipment. These property taxes are assessed by the county assessor and collected by the county treasurer. NOTE: The first $100,000 of personal property is excluded from taxation. In addition, a few localities impose local taxes. These are discussed below.

Contact your local county assessor for details. Personal property used in a business, such as a desk or a computer, is considered taxable property. The business owner is required to report all taxable personal property to the county assessor annually and to pay a tax based upon the assessed value of the property to the county treasurer’s office. Real property in Idaho is also taxable.

Taxpayer Identification Number
Every business, except a sole proprietor with no employees, must obtain a federal Employer Identification Number (EIN) that will serve as its Taxpayer Identification Number. This number is necessary when the business files its tax returns, and may be required by banks and corporations with whom you do business. A business can obtain an EIN from the U.S. IRS by filing Form SS-4 either over the Internet or by U.S. mail, or by phoning (800) 829-4933.

Special Requirements for Businesses with Employees

Businesses that have employees must pay employment and unemployment taxes, acquire workers’ compensation insurance and follow labor guidelines. They also must report to the state when they hire new employees.

New Hire Reporting Requirements
All employers are required to report to Idaho Department of Labor new employees or rehired employees whose previous employment was terminated more than 12 months prior to the current hire date. Reporting within 20 days of the date of hire satisfies the reporting requirement. There are several acceptable methods of reporting. A completed and legible copy of a Form W-4 is an acceptable means of providing information to the Idaho Department of Labor. Employers generally have W-4 forms on file for each employee.

A New Hire Reporting Form for submitting information also is available upon request and can be downloaded at: https://labor.idaho.gov/applications/newhire/default.aspx.

Employers must provide the company name, address, Federal Employer Identification Number, Idaho unemployment insurance account number, employee’s full name, address, Social Security number and date of hire.

Copies of completed reports can be mailed to the following address:
Idaho Department of Labor
New Hire Directory
317 W. Main St.
Boise, ID 83735-0610
Employers can also fax their completed reports to (208) 332-7411.

Employers preferring to enter new hire information on-line may do so using a current version of Internet Explorer or Firefox. A personal identification number is required and can be obtained by contacting the New Hire Reporting office. Employers can arrange to report electronically by calling (800) 627-3880.

Employment Taxes
The hiring of employees means additional steps in paying taxes. Employment taxes include the deduction of income taxes from employee paychecks, payment of Social Security taxes and the payment of federal and state unemployment taxes. When hiring one or more employees for a business, be sure to follow these steps to tax compliance:
Federal Employee Withholding and Federal Unemployment Taxes
A business with employees must apply for a federal Employee Identification Number (see page 16). After applying, the business will receive a Federal Tax Deposit Coupon Book (Form 8109). These coupons are used when the business makes deposits of deducted employee federal income tax payments, joint employee-employer Social Security tax and Medicare payments and employer payments for federal unemployment tax.

To make deductions for employee federal income tax, an employer must be sure each employee has a Social Security number and a current Form W-4 on file.

Deductions are made according to federal tax tables found in Publication 15, Circular E, Employer’s Tax Guide. In addition to income tax withholding, Social Security and Medicare taxes must be withheld. The Social Security and Medicare tax rates for wages paid in a given year can be found in IRS Publication 15.

The employer matches this deduction and deposits it periodically with a certified bank. Employee income tax, Social Security and Medicare are all reported on an Employer’s Quarterly Federal Tax Return (Form 941).

An employer must also make Federal Unemployment Tax payments of 0.8 percent of the first $7,000 in each employee’s earnings. These payments are reported on the Employer’s Annual Federal Unemployment Tax Return (Form 940 or 940EZ). For information, contact the IRS (see page 16).

Idaho Business Registration Requirements
With the Idaho Business Registration Form (Form IBR-1), a business owner can simultaneously register with the Idaho State Tax Commission, Idaho Department of Labor, and Idaho Industrial Commission. This form can be completed over the Internet at www.business.idaho.gov, or the paper form is available from any of the foregoing agencies. The form also can be obtained by using the Order Form at the back of this booklet.

Idaho Employee Income Tax Withholding
All employers must obtain a Withholding Account Number from the Idaho State Tax Commission by filing an IBR-1. Employers are assigned a number and issued an employer tax packet with payroll reporting forms and instructions for reporting wages paid and state income taxes withheld. Every employer who is required by the Internal Revenue Service to deduct and remit federal income tax from wages and salaries paid to employees must also deduct and remit Idaho income tax. Deductions for state income tax are made using the employee’s federal Form W-4 and the Idaho Income Tax Withholding Tables.

Idaho Unemployment Tax
Idaho businesses with employees are required to pay State Unemployment Tax. As mentioned, Form IBR-1 is used to secure an employer account number and tax rate for the payment of Idaho’s unemployment tax from Idaho Department of Labor. Using this rate, number and instructions, employers make quarterly unemployment tax payments.

For more information on Idaho’s unemployment tax, contact your local Idaho Department of Labor office (see pages 36-37) or the state office at:

Worker’s Compensation
Employers operating in Idaho are required to carry workers’ compensation insurance unless specifically exempted. To fulfill this requirement, a business can insure with one of over 300 insurance carriers who have been licensed in the state to write workers’ compensation insurance. In special cases, self-insurance is also permitted through the Idaho Industrial Commission. Rates and dividends may vary by the insurer. Contact an insurance agent or company representative for assistance.

Growth and Expansion
The State of Idaho places a high priority on growing and maintaining a thriving business environment. With this in mind, the state offers the following programs to assist Idaho business in staying strong, healthy and profitable.

TechHelp
TechHelp assists Idaho manufacturers in lean manufacturing, human performance, quality systems, product development, and information technology to help them become more competitive.

Small Business Development Centers (SBDCs)
Small Business Development Centers around the state deliver up-to-date counseling, training and technical assistance in all aspects of management to help small business owners and potential business owners make sound decisions.

TechConnect
TechConnect staff act as project managers to access the resources necessary for businesses to commercialize private, university and governmental technologies.

Gem State Prospector
Gem State Prospector gives companies considering relocation or expansion a database of business locations across Idaho. This resource allows companies to search by their property needs and provides in-depth results for each site, including demographic information for the surrounding area, access to utilities and proximity to support businesses.
www.gemstateprospector.com

Customized Workforce Training
Idaho supports education and training programs through the Department of Labor and its local offices to help provide skilled, productive workers for your company. Training can be tailored to your specific company needs and designed to develop skill sets for your precise requirements. Financial reimbursement up to $3,000 is available to eligible companies to cover the cost of training a new employee or retaining one facing permanent layoff.

Workforce Training Network
This network coordinates delivery of statewide training programs to meet the needs of Idaho’s employers and citizens. The state provides these programs in a customized manner based on a business’s needs.

Access Labor Market Information
Visit the Department of Labor’s web site or local office for current information about work force trends, economic conditions, demographics, wages, industry and occupational statistics and census data.

Existing businesses; economic development groups; and companies considering startup, expansion or relocation can also call on labor economists throughout the state for information, analysis, referral services and technical assistance.
Procurement Technical Assistant Center

The Idaho Procurement Technical Assistance Center (PTAC) matches the purchasing needs of federal and state agencies with the products and services of Idaho companies. In addition, it provides technical assistance with completing bid documents, offers seminars on evolving procurement practices and hosts the Idaho Business Opportunity Conference to put you face-to-face with purchasing professionals from government agencies and large corporations.

A Final Note and Advice

This guide to starting a business does not supersede or in any way replace directives, regulations or requirements of authorized government agencies directly responsible for business regulation.

Regulations and laws change, so check with the responsible agencies for the latest requirements. Businesses are encouraged to obtain the services of a qualified accountant for tax, cash-management, and record-keeping matters and an attorney for the handling of organizational, employee, and regulatory matters.

An experienced real estate professional or site selection consultant can provide advice on site location analysis, acquisition of existing business opportunities and land or building acquisition.
Appendices

Appendix 1 Regulated Business Activities and Occupational Licenses

Idaho does not have a single statewide business license. However, there are numerous state and federal entities that regulate and/or license business activities.

Please review the following list and contact the entities relevant to your business. The numbers shown to the right of the column of Activities correspond to the numbered agencies listed on pages 40-51. While this list is intended to be comprehensive, it cannot identify every regulated activity. Each business is responsible for performing due diligence to ensure compliance with applicable statutes and regulations.

Businesses engaged in the preparation of food for sale need to contact their local health department and their local city clerk’s office. If your business activity is not listed, check the Business Wizard on the Idaho Small Business Solutions web site to check if it is regulated at the local level. (http://idahobizhelp.org).

- auctioneers’ licenses (county treasurer)
- bridge and ferry tolls licenses (county treasurer)
- building permits, zoning issues (city or county clerk)
- business licenses (city or county clerk/recorder)
- chauffeurs’ and operators’ licenses (county sheriff)
- commercial and farm vehicle licenses (county assessor)
- the cities of Boise, Chubbuck, Coeur d’Alene, Moscow, Lewiston and Pocatello require daycare licenses (city clerk)
- massage parlors (Boise City requires inspection by Central District Health Department)
- pawnbrokers’ licenses (county treasurer)
- property taxes (county assessor)
- sewer hookup permit

Business activities that require contact with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration should first contact their local health district office. Businesses using telemarketing must contact the Idaho Attorney General’s Office regarding Idaho’s No Call List.
E-mail: no_call_list@ag.idaho.gov

Detailed information on these and other matters can be obtained from the local chamber of commerce and city and county governments.

Appendix 3 Technology Transfer Opportunities

Technology transfer is the systematic movement of technological knowledge from universities, colleges and government laboratories to commercial applications in the private market.

Collaboration among industry, government laboratory and/or university partners can result in commercialization of new materials, techniques and devices, bringing benefits to the entrepreneur, researcher, industry, university and the larger community. For information on technology transfer opportunities in Idaho, contact:

Idaho Global Entrepreneurial Mission (IGEM)
A state program with the Idaho Department of Commerce, the Idaho Global Entrepreneurial Mission (IGEM) creates partnerships that pair private sector experts with research professionals to bring commercially viable technologies to market. Additionally, IGEM grants, overseen by the IGEM Council, support these partnerships by awarding dollars on a project by project.
Appendix 4 Local Permits, Regulations, and Licenses

In addition to reviewing the state and federal matters discussed in the previous pages, businesses should investigate regulations, permits and licenses required by the cities and counties where they will locate.
Appendix 5 A Directory of Business Assistance Agencies

There are a number of public agencies throughout the state that help Idaho businesses. Answers to questions not addressed by this guide may be available from the agencies listed below.

Idaho State Department of Agriculture
Important local issues that businesses encounter include, but are not limited to, the following:
Market Development Division
2270 Old Penitentiary Rd.

Services: the Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) manages and protects Idaho’s environmental resources. DEQ’s activities include: assessment of environmental problems; oversight of facilities that generate air, water and hazardous waste pollution; monitoring of air and water quality; operation of the Idaho National Laboratory Oversight Program; and clean-up of contaminated sites. DEQ’s Environmental Education Pollution Prevention Program provides assistance and outreach in the areas of pollution prevention and environmental education to industry, citizens and schools. Contact the pollution prevention coordinator located in the customer resource team at the state office for information.

For general information or special services, please contact the appropriate division in DEQ’s state office listed below.
• Waste Management and Remediation Division
• State Air Quality Division
• State Water Quality Division
• INL Oversight Program

To determine if your activity will be regulated by DEQ, contact the nearest regional office listed below.
