Idaho Incentives help your investments take off

It's no wonder Idaho is such an attractive place to do business. Idaho offers low operation costs, a predictable tax structure and a fiscally responsible government.

INCENTIVES

Idaho Business Advantage

Businesses that invest at least $500,000 in new facilities and create at least 10 new jobs paying $40,000 annually plus benefits, with additional jobs paying an average of $15.50 per hour during project period, may qualify for the following:

- An enhanced investment tax credit of 3.75% up to $750,000 or 62.5% of corporate income tax liability in any one year.
- A new jobs tax credit from $1,500-$3,000 for new jobs paying $24.04 per hour or more.
- A 2.5% real property improvement corporate income tax credit up to $125,000 in any one year along with a 25% rebate on sales tax paid on construction materials for the new facilities.

Tax Reimbursement Incentive (TRI)

If your business is adding or bringing high-paying jobs to Idaho, you may be eligible for the Idaho Tax Reimbursement Incentive (TRI).

This post-performance incentive can make your decision to expand or relocate even easier. The incentive creates a maximum credit of 30% on income, payroll and sales taxes for up to 15 years.

To qualify:

- Companies in rural areas must create 20 new jobs and those in urban centers must create 50
- New jobs must be full-time and pay equal to or greater than the average county wage
- Project requires a meaningful community contribution
- Company must prove that the incentive is a critical factor in its decision

DID YOU KNOW?

Idaho's aircraft repair stations do not have to pay sales tax on maintenance parts.

New Service Support and Sponsorship

Idaho Commerce and Idaho Tourism have worked with community partners across Idaho to help sponsor and subsidize new routes. Sponsorship and subsidy examples include matching funds for federal grants to expand air service, sponsorship dollars to help offset costs until the new route has gained ticketed passenger traction, and cooperative marketing on advertising to promote the new service and routes. The Department stands ready to assist again as new routes and services are identified.
