travelingspud Off to the mountains this weekend for some much needed R&R. 8 days in to 2021 and I'm feeling a little tired to say the least. How are you all doing?

I wanted to share this pic from the yurt trip Jack and I went on in 2019 to get away from it all for Valentines Day. It was honestly such a mountain woman adventure and not for the faint of heart but it ended up being so much fun! If you are looking for a fun activity for yourself this winter in Idaho I highly recommend a yurt experience. Plus, it's great to do during covid times. I wrote all about it on the @visitidaho blog that I'll link for you in my profile. Let me know if you do book a yurt this winter!
